Services designed to successfully deliver your projects

The Energy Project Services Specialist

The renewable energy sector is evolving and projects are moving into deeper, more 'unchartered' waters. To meet the goals and objectives of your offshore floating wind energy business, you need a partner with the skills, expertise and knowledge to identify risks and deliver solutions for every aspect of your project.

EPC Solutions team of experts have extensive knowledge and experience in the design, construction, transportation and installation of floating platforms, anchorage, mooring and turret systems. From start to finish, our services are tailored to provide a comprehensive plan for project risk management solutions.

Why Risk Management?

Every project has unique factors that will ultimately determine its level of success, such as on-time delivery, budget costs, client requirements, market reputation and more.

The need to identify, quantify, manage and mitigate risks at each stage of the project remains constant.

Project Engineering and Management Services

Our engineering services cover your entire project life cycle, from concept feasibility to front-end detailed design, fabrication design for construction through to load-out, transportation and installation.

EPC Solutions in-depth understanding and expertise in global construction facilities, and the most cost-effective fabrication methods, ensures optimisation of your design and build, as well as your delivery strategy.

Our services include:

- Design concept review and validation
- Build strategy definition
- Build location selection
- Sub-contractor and vendor selection
- Materials selection and optimisation
- Process and sequence definition
- Load-out and transportation engineering
- Load-out and transportation planning
- Cost estimation
- Cost validation
- Schedule preparation and validation
- Risk profiling and definition
- Mitigation of potential pinch points and planning contingency strategies

Project Construction and Management Services

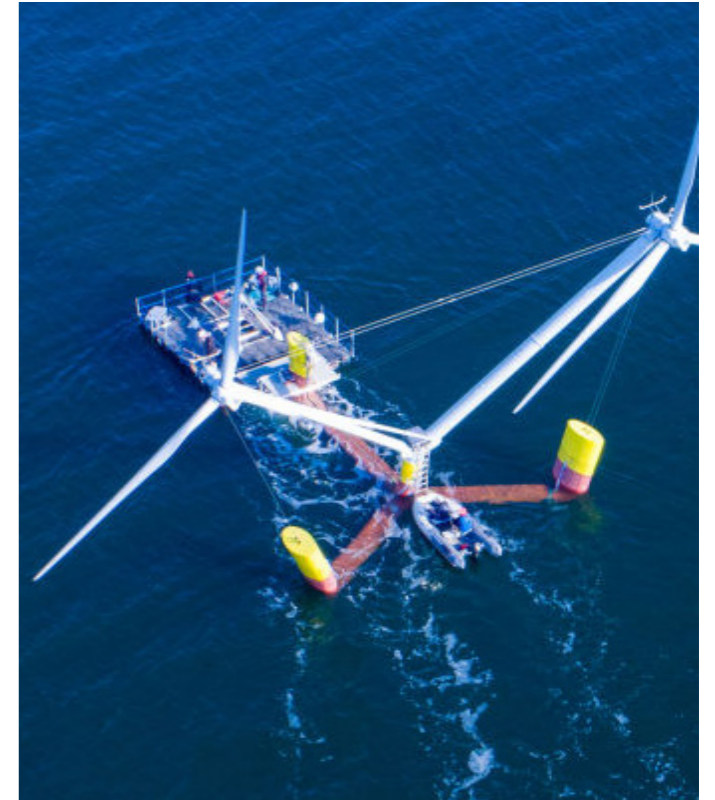

Our team of experienced engineers, planners, inspectors, discipline leads, construction and project managers can lead the delivery of your project on a turnkey basis, from concept through to installation and commissioning, or integrate seamlessly into your existing management teams.

With complete transparency of the critical path and associated risks, we provide accurate and achievable fast-track schedules, detailed CAPEX estimations and breakdowns based on current market rates.

Fabrication and Installation Services

EPC Solutions provide a 'single-point' contracting solution for your project through our network of fabrication and offshore partners. Our unified contracting strategy eliminates multiple project interfaces and responsibility gaps, which are frequently the greatest source of risk to any project.

Your committed partner through every stage of your project
